The claim, and the check

YOUR CLAIM

10,000 members at $15 per month.

Arithmetic exact. The price is not achievable.

WHAT THE RESEARCH SAYS

$3.33/mo

Wanderlog Pro — the comparable you cited — sells at $39.99 a YEAR. Your $15/month is $180/year: 3.6× the highest annual price in the category.

THE BINDING CONSTRAINT

Price — compounded by count.

10,000 members is $5.9\times$ your Year-3 model's paying base. \$180/year is $3.7\times$ the price.

Together that is a $22\times$ uplift on one line. At a defensible \$49, 10,000 members is \$490,000.

What has to be true

Three conditions. If any fails, the path does not deliver.

Price at $49-79 a year

A small premium for the taste profile, not a 3.6× one.

Reach 6,000 paying members

3.5× your current Year-3 plan. Creators and the product loop are the channels.

Or add human delivery

$15-30/month is defensible only with concierge access bundled in — which makes it a service, not a software tier.

VERDICT

The right long-term engine,
at a quarter of the assumed price.

This is the line that compounds and the one an acquirer underwrites.
Price it where the market is and it is still the largest single path in the portfolio.
